

From: Drewski
To: Microsoft ATR,attorney.general@po.state.ct.us@inet...
Date: 1/8/02 12:06pm
Subject: Microsoft and Anti-Trust

Without real punishment, Microsoft will never change its ways. You only have to look to Windows XP to see this. This lawsuit never should have been about integrating ONE product into another, but the entire PRACTICE of integration.

MS needs to be broken up into three companies -- OS, User Applications, Server Applications. Sooner is better than later.

-- Drew

Visit <http://www.drewncapris.net>! Go! Go there now!

This world in arms is not spending money alone. It is spending the sweat of its laborers, the genius of its scientists, the hopes of its children. This is not a way of life at all in any true sense. --President Dwight Eisenhower